

The PA does not require a qualified professional, only encourages it. This should be a requirement.

The Exemption for towers in highway corridors could be a problem for Vermont. States should be able to modify or opt-out of this provision .

The definition of APE may not be appropriate for some geographic areas. States should be able to modify this provision to reflect local conditions.